
CONTENTS

Articles

- 3–18 Sentimental journey? The drifting rhythms of Tsai Ming-liang's Journey to the West
SETH A. WILDER
- 19–35 Border-crossing and the narrative of the minor: Midi Z's The Road to Mandalay
CHIALAN SHARON WANG
- 37–53 Storming off the tracks: Zombies, high speed rail and South Korean identity in Train to Busan
RYAN GARDENER
- 55–73 Hooligan Sparrow: Representation of sexual assault in Chinese cinema, feminist activism and the limits of #MeToo in China
MIRELA DAVID

- 75–93 Foreign ideas, native spaces: Crime and Punishment in recent Asian cinema
ALEXANDER BURRY
- 95–111 The critique of anti-communist state violence in Uncle Boonmee Who Can Recall His Past Lives
PALITA CHUNSAENGCHAN

Book Reviews

- 113–117 Worldly Desires: Cosmopolitanism and Cinema in Hong Kong and Taiwan, Brian Hu (2018)
ERICA KA-YAN POON
- 118–121 The Early Transnational Chinese Cinema Industry, Fu Yongchun (2019)
ROBERT HYLAND