

CONTENTS

Articles

- 3–21 Narrative of traumatic memory in Spirits' Homecoming (2016) and Tuning Fork (2014)
EUNAH LEE
- 23–39 Can Tibetan filmmakers speak more than ethnic identity? Re-imagining Tibetan New Wave beyond ethnicized reading
RUNJIE WANG
- 41–61 The politics of the participatory in Indonesian environmental documentary: The oeuvre of Dandhy Laksono
EDWIN JURRIËNS
- 63–79 Projecting China to the world: Cinity, high frame rate cinema and the future of Chinese screening technology
XIAO YANG AND OLIVIA KHOO
- 81–98 Politics, lyricism and A City of Sadness: Towards a critique of the Chinese lyrical tradition in Taiwan
ELLIOTT SHR-TZUNG SHIE

- 99–138 The spatializing consciousness of Chinese cinema
LAM NIN-TUNG (TRANS. VICTOR FAN AND SIQI LIU)

Interviews

- 139–157 Making Tracey: An interview with Shu Kei
GARY BETTINSON
- 159–176 Milkyway meditations: An interview with Johnnie To
GARY BETTINSON

Book Reviews

- 177–182 Locating Taiwan Cinema in the Twenty-First Century, Paul G. Pickowicz and Yingjing Zhang (eds) (2020)
YIXIN XU
- 183–187 Satyajit Ray: The Man Who Knew Too Much, Barun Chanda (2022)
SHYAM SUNDAR PAL AND ANANYA GHOSHAL

- 191 Index